Everything should be tagged with the exhibitor's name. The premiums, if any, will be prorated among the exhibitors. Parties in the eastern and southern part of the county will please leave samples at the banks in Danbury and Lebanon. In McCook, samples may be left at Lindemann's office. At Bartley and Indianola, samples may be left at the banks. THE TRIBUNE hopes ardently that the people of Red Willow county will respond promptly and very liberally in this matter.

Folk a Friend of Papers.

Jefferson City, Mo., July 18.—Governor Joseph W. Folk, in addressing the retail merchants of Missouri at their convention here yesterday, spoke against the mail order business and favored advertising in the town papers. He said in part:

"We are proud of our splendid cities, and we want them to increase in wealth and population and we also want our country towns to grow. We wish the city merchants to build up, but we also desire the country merchants to prosper. I do not believe in the mail order custom. If a place is good enough for a man to live in and make his money in it is good enough for him to spend his money in it.

"No merchant can succeed without advertising in some way or another. Patronize your town papers, build them up and they will build the town up increase your trade and greater opportunities. Do not be afraid that business is going to be hurt by the recent exposures of wrong-doing in the commercial world. No man who is doing an honest business can be injured by the light. All business will be better for the cleansing process it is going through and for the stamping out of the evil."

Wished For More.

Ralph Dunbar's cello playing was alone worth the price of admission. He left the audience wishing for more. This was written for the Wichita, Kansas, Eagle; but he will play in McCook, next Wednesday, August 1.

Summer Diarrhoea.

Because diarrhoea, summer complaint, cramps, etc., are widely prevalent we urge the necessity of you now securing a bottle of McConnell's Blackberry Balsam which quickly stops the above stomach and bowel disorders. 25c.

The New Opera House.

Messrs. Hamilton & Akers, the contractors, now have a large force of men at work on the construction and reconstruction of the new McCook opera house, and already the large building begins to loom up in proportions not yet understood by McCook people, with its length of 130 feet and width of 50 feet, and stage as large as the requirements of city a number of times larger than is a McCook today.

Plans and specifications for the new scenery have been received from Sosman & Landis, the scenic artists of Chicago, and they assure Manager W. S. Bixler that he will have the best appointed display of scenery in any opera house in the state. Robert Baker, who has had considerable experience in the theatrical business, selected the scenery and will assist in its installment. Sam Amburg, formerly stage manager at McVicker's theatre in Chicago, who is now manager at Manhattan beach, Denver, will be here when the new opera house is ready to have the new scenery hung and the electric wiring done and will superintend both. The new scenery alone will cost the nice dot of a $1,000. The scenes are all of new design.

Upon a visit to the work THE TRIBUNE was impressed with the largeness of the enterprise and feels like warmly encouraging the promoter, who must not fail of the very liberal support of the people of McCook in this endeavor.

Gillian, Humorist.

The gentleman appeared before a full house at the Menard, last Friday evening, and pleased many. He was "funny". Neither his humor nor his pathos were of the first class. They were just a little short of the expected exorcism all the time. His initial appearance was "foolish". You were in doubt whether or not "it" had come from the 200 or No. 5. But he made you laugh some and occasionally made you sober and thoughtful with a tender tid bit.

Very Satisfactory.

The Dunbars gave great satisfaction at South Haven, Michigan. The fine peal of bells was handled with consummate skill and the selections were of the finest. In quartettes the voices blend beautifully and the expression and enunciation were well nigh perfect. Again and again they were encored. The cello solo and the trio for flute, cello and piano were very fine.

The McCook Souvenir Postal Cards printed by THE TRIBUNE are on sale at A. McMillen's, The Ideal Store, The Tribune Office, L. W. McConnell's, The Post Office Lobby. Ten different views printed. Other designs are in preparation. Price—Two for five cents.

The committee, which consists of Rev. J. J. Loughran, L. W. McConnell, Dr. S. C. Beach, Rev. M. B. Carman, J. E. Kelley, P. F. McKenna, F. M. Kimmell, Patrick Walsh, was divided into groups of two, who will canvass the city and this section of state in the sale of stock of the hospital, the shares of stock being placed at $25 each.

Dunbar Press Brevities.

As singers and bell ringers the Dunbars are certainly unequalled.

The most artistic cello playing ever heard in Topeka was that of Ralph Dunbar at last night's concert.

One could hardly have imagined so much music could be gotten out of a tableful of bells. Every number was encored two or three times.

Brotherhood of St. Paul Entertainment.

The literary-musical entertainment in the Methodist church, Tuesday evening, under Brotherhood of St. Paul auspices, was greeted by a large, appreciative and well pleased audience. The programme was more than commonly worthful—and that is saying a good deal. After the entertainment, ice cream and cake were served in the basement. Some $60.00 were cleared up by the brotherhood.
